

FloraLife® Bouquet Wrap

FloraLife® Bouquet Wrap is an easy to apply product that maintains hydration of floral bouquets or bunches during shipping. This unique soft and pliable material is composed of 70% plant-based fibers. It provides hydration during shipping which can potentially be the most stressful stage of the flower journey. As a result, fresh cut flowers arrive fresh and hydrated at the consumer's home, making a positive first impression upon arrival. The flexible material is wrapped dry around the stem ends, dipped in water or preferably flower food solution, then sealed in a bag to prevent leakage. The FloraLife® Bouquet Wrap ensures that horizontally shipped flowers hydrate well without encountering water spillage issues. For best results, pads should be dipped in FloraLife® flower food solution.
