

FloraLife® Transport Paper

FloraLife® Transport Paper is a specially designed postharvest waxed tissue that is used in the transport of fresh cut flowers. FloraLife® Transport Paper is impregnated with compounds that react when exposed to relative humidity above 40%. Floral shipping boxes are environments prone for growth of undesirable characteristics due to high moisture. FloraLife® Transport Paper guarantees the appearance of flowers and ensures that the natural color and appearance of flowers are maintained as well as a longer shelf life. No more ugly brown spots on your flowers! FloraLife® Transport Paper is a simple and easy to use product for flower shipping boxes.

Product use instructions

1. Line 1 sheet per 1 cubic foot of space in a box. Then add flowers in the box as you would typically do. A standard flower box might include 1 to 4 sheets of FloraLife® Transport Paper, depending on the volume of the box.
2. The printed side of the paper should face away from the flowers and foliage.
3. Remove and discard sheets after transportation.
4. Reseal the moisture barrier bag between uses. Store in a cool dry place.
